I was informed that you are the point of contact for the subject system. I initially thought this system was only in use at JEH, but I understand that the system is actually being used Bureau-wide. As the FBI evolves from paper-intensive records to electronic information management systems, every electronic information system must comply with the policies and procedures governing the management of FBI information and records (in accordance with 66F-HQ-A1358157-POLI, serial 157). So that I can best determine what records are created and maintained by the LPR system, please complete and return the attached at your earliest convenience:

[REDACTED]
It was a pleasure meeting you and your coworker yesterday at the Science and Technology Expo. As I mentioned, we only brought three (e.g. LPR's, [REDACTED]) of the many technologies that we support in our unit. For your convenience, I have provided a link to our web site, just in case you might be interested in some of our other technologies.

Hi. Could one of you send me an electronic version of the PTA you hand delivered to me at our last meeting? It'll make the editing process easier. (Sorry to have not gotten back to you sooner; I thought we'd hold off until the DOJ guidance on LPRs became finalized, but [REDACTED] would like us to complete this based on what we know now.)

That's what I thought we were doing until [REDACTED] mentioned getting this out BEFORE the update. He's view is to submit it so the Front Office will see VSU moving forward. I agree that we should have the update in the PTA, but [REDACTED] "one week" has turned into 7 weeks... I work to "finalize" it so it can be signed and sent when the decision is made.

Attached is a special TechWatch Press, dated 05/09/2012.

HIGHLIGHTS: The use of license-plate readers by police is growing, raising privacy concerns; cameras mounted atop the cruiser capture thousands of images a day; a computer inside the car checks the license plates against various crime databases, including wanted suspects, stolen vehicles, and sex offenders.

Hey [REDACTED]
Sorry to respond so late. We sent our PTA up our management chain to [REDACTED] our in house Privacy related POC, and to [REDACTED] to look over. We figured once they did their thing, we'd send it to you. Is that ok or would you rather want to see it as it is?

Hi. Could one of you send me an electronic version of the PTA you hand delivered to me at our last meeting? It'll make the editing process easier. (Sorry to have not gotten back to you sooner; I thought we'd hold off until the DOJ guidance on LPRs became finalized, but [REDACTED] would like us to complete this based on what we know now.)

Just a heads up, [redacted] may be reaching out to you regarding the need for LPR cameras. As you may recall from our briefing, [redacted] cameras that they have access to which belong to local law enforcement agencies. About a year ago [redacted] they also received OGC PCLU concurrence to do what they are doing. [redacted] advised VSU that this is a "pay to play" deal where [redacted] would also contribute LPR cameras. Towards this end [redacted] had committed to supply [redacted] LPR cameras. DEA Wants To Install License Plate Scanners and Retain Data for Two Years from the freedom-of-movement-denied dept.

Posted by Unknown Lamer on Tuesday May 22, @12:08AM .

An anonymous reader writes with news that might make privacy advocates a bit uneasy. From the article:

"Everyone driving on Interstate 15 in southwest Utah may soon have their license plate scanned by the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration. The DEA and two sheriffs are asking permission to install stationary license plate scanners on the freeway in Beaver and Washington counties. The primary purpose would be to catch or build cases against drug traffickers, but at a Utah Legislature committee meeting Wednesday, the sheriffs and a DEA representative described how the scanners also could be used to catch kidnappers and violent criminals. That, however, wasn't the concern of skeptical legislators on the Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice Interim Committee. They were worried about the DEA storing the data for two years and who would be able to access it."

FBI-2581-ALPRS

As there is another LPR class scheduled for June 11-14, 2012.. The FBI [REDACTED] would request to send an [REDACTED] from CJIS in efforts to support our program. CJIS [REDACTED] has been identified to attend. The FBI [REDACTED] will pick up the associated costs such as Lodging and MI&E.. If you could provide the name of the local hotel you use, that would be great.

In addition, Its my understanding that now there is a legal portion in conjunction with the class. If possible, I would like to attend that legal briefing to ensure complete compliance with the class standards.

Your continued support of our LPR program is always greatly appreciated, Thanks again.

[REDACTED] - I noticed in the LPR email trails that [REDACTED] is the PLCU POC for OGC rewrites at the FBIHQ level and [REDACTED] is providing comments from the OTD Legal level. It looks like [REDACTED] is not an addressee on [REDACTED] comments email. Id be surprised if they're not coordinating, but should we confirm that? Is the expectation that PLCU and/or OTD Legal is supplying language or is VSU submitting it to them?

I read through the case. It appears that the case only involves GPS surveillance...not LPRs. So, DOJ is going to use this case as a basis for guidelines using LPRs as well?

Please advise.

Hi [redacted]

b6

I'm sorry, I've heard so much about the case "U.S. vs. Jones" that I assume that everyone knows about it.

Instead of writing a long paragraph, here is a url to a web site where you can read about it:

<http://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/11pdf/10-1259.pdf>

So based on this ruling, DOJ is coming up with new guidelines to handle GPS trackers, LPR cameras and other technologies.

If you have any questions, please feel free to contact me.

Hi [Redacted]

CJIS will be hosting a training session for representatives from FBI Field Offices this summer. I will be speaking on NCIC with an emphasis on the License Plate Readers.

Since you are providing LPR data to the Field Offices, I was wondering if you could provide me additional information. Could you provide me the Field Offices that you provide the LPR extract to as well as exactly how the Field Offices are using the data (practical usages)? Also, if you have any success stories you could provide, that would be great.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

I'm sorry, I've heard so much about the case "U.S. vs. Jones" that I assume that everyone knows about it.

Instead of writing a long paragraph, here is a url to a web site where you can read about it:

<http://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/11pdf/10-1259.pdf>

So based on this ruling, DOJ is coming up with new guidelines to handle GPS trackers, LPR cameras and other technologies.

CJIS will be hosting a training session for representatives from FBI Field Offices this summer. I will be speaking on NCIC with an emphasis on the License Plate Readers.

Since you are providing LPR data to the Field Offices, I was wondering if you could provide me additional information. Could you provide me the Field Offices that you provide the LPR extract to as well as exactly how the Field Offices are using the data (practical usages)? Also, if you have any success stories you could provide, that would be great.

Please let me know if you have any questions.
