As per our meeting yesterday attached is the latest MUST HAVE/SUPPORT bare bones request. As discussed my budget is a running target tied to cost module funding and I cannot specifically identify what base funds [Redacted] I have to support the identified requirements. Additionally even if a requisition is submitted and approved Finance Division is only authorizing [Redacted] funding due to the continuing resolution. I will say that [Redacted] will use base funds to support, however, at this time I simply cannot provide a specific number. Hope this assists in your presentation to the Executive Board.

The FBI's [Boxed text] team will assist bureau units with their initial high-level project plans prior to the multi-agency review. To increase the likelihood of approval, it will be helpful to keep several elements in mind as you craft your submission documents.

1. Describe how your project relates to the current and future challenges presented by one (or more) of the specific technologies noted.

2. Think in terms of "gaps!"
   Describe current/future operational shortcomings and how the project will overcome them.

3. Identify the specific benefits that will accrue to the FBI's [Boxed text]

4. Is the project sustainable beyond the funding period identified?
   Preference is more likely to be given to projects that will be maintained by [Boxed text] once the initiative concludes.

5. Collaboration, in development and/or procurement phases, is looked upon favorably and demonstrates that duplication of effort is being avoided.

6. Identify the base funds your unit will contribute to the effort.
   Doing so demonstrates your unit's commitment to the program. (Be aware that unit funding is not offset by any enhancement funds you receive, nor should a unit reallocate funds to other projects if monies are provided.)
